

Harvey Haley Receives Award! CC&V Recognized for Safety Record!

The safety achievements of CC&V and the efforts of Harvey Haley in implementing the STOP program were recognized at the Colorado Mining Association's 108th Annual National Western Mining Conference and Exhibition.

Harvey received his award, with wife Sharon looking on, for outstanding leadership in accident and injury reduction in the Mine Operations Department and for exemplary stewardship of the DuPont STOP program and the CC&V risk management program. Harvey was responsible for expanding the STOP program to all employees, and since then has been the champion of the DuPont system of accident and injury reduction, showing unceasing focus and dedication in the promotion and implementation of STOP. This focus and dedication to safety has resulted in a very high degree of hazard awareness.

CC&V's safety record of two years without a lost time injury was also given an award at the CMA Conference. Such a safety record is almost unheard of in any industry, and particularly in the mining industry. Credit for the award goes to all employees who make safety the first order of each task.

In order to continue our safety accomplishments, and send every employee home safely at the end of their shift, our commitment to the STOP program must continue. Each one of us must be willing to identify and address safety issues immediately. The risk management program is also a key component in the effort to reduce risks as they are identified.

Congratulations Harvey and all CC&V employees! Keep up the good work!
